Visit Reflection: “Ms. Raye has a very quiet voice but even with a class of sixty students in the room her words were heard because of the intensity of focus. Every student felt valued and came out with a wonderful experience in viewing how books are made with words and pictures. Ms. Raye's visit was a hands on event that had every student involved. She had a different program for each grade K-6th. She brought copies of her books and art work to share and show the steps she uses to create her works.” - Charlotte E.
